

answersingenesis
believing it. defending it. proclaiming it.

July 6, 2010

To whom this may concern,

I am writing this letter in reference for Tyson Hermes and Hermes Construction. In February of 2008 we approached Hermes with a project we were wanting to start when at the time I was the Facilities Director for Calvary Christian School in Covington, Ky. Tyson came in with a plan that fit our budget and we felt very comfortable working with him because of a statement he made “we will do what it takes to make this happen within budget and on time”.

Two years and two other company’s, multiple renderings, code reviews, permits, etc., we awarded Hermes Construction the approved project and shortly there after on March 30, 2010 they started the project. The project numbers were under budget, with room to wiggle, and the project started when they said it would.

The process that took us to that point was lengthy mainly because of what we wanted for our dollar and Tyson’s commitment to give us everything we wanted and still stay within budget. It took so long because he did what it took to get the job done, and an executive committee who wanted to explore every avenue of possibility for the new space we wanted to build. He met every challenge with an open mind and patience, which went a long way with us.

I highly recommend Hermes Construction to not only deliver what you want, but also do it with the utmost professionalism, zeal, and deliver you what you want and desire.

Thank you for this opportunity to recommend Hermes Construction.

Tom Van Huss
Director of Safety and Property Maintenance
Answers in Genesis
859-7272-2222 Ext. 459